Author: Mauro Rubino-Sammartano is a Partner at LawFed - BRSA, which is the result of a merger between Rubino-Sammartano e Associati and Bianchi e Associati, both firms being in practice in the international field since the 1960s. He has acted as Recorder of Desio and Deputy Judge (Court of Monza). Mr. Rubino-Sammartano has been a Lecturer (International Law and Arbitration Law) at the Universities of Padua and Milan and has held numerous positions throughout his distinguished career: President, Unione Camere Internazionali (Italian Section of International Attorneys); Honorary Investment Counsellor of Pakistan for Italy; Chartered Arbitrator (U.K.); Président d'Honneur, Union Internationale des Avocats (UIA); Chairman Emeritus, International Committee of the Milan Bar; Président d'Honneur, Association Internationale des Juristes de langue Italienne; Honorary President of the European Society for Construction Law; Founder of the Italian Society for Construction Law; Chairman Emeritus, IBA's International Construction Projects; Secretary-General Emeritus of the Federation of European Bars.

He has been admitted to the Paris Bar and is an associate member, as Italian advocate, of Littleton Chambers in London. He is currently

President of the European Court of Arbitration and of the Mediation Centre of Europe, the Mediterranean and Middle East.

He has acted and regularly acts as chairman, party-appointed, sole arbitrator and counsel in a large number of arbitral proceedings. His practice is largely based on international and national litigation and arbitration in the field of contracts, construction law, mergers and acquisitions, sales of goods, joint ventures and interlocutory injunctions

About the Book: This greatly expanded, revised, and updated edition of an arbitration classic reaffirms the author's distinctive approach in the context of the burgeoning global use of arbitration as the preferred means of dispute resolution. Focusing on the systematic procedural aspects that have developed from a remarkable convergence of legal systems - making arbitration today truly international rather than merely a proceeding in which the parties are of different nationality, Professor Rubino-Sammartano offers a uniquely valuable and useful book; ideal for both study and practice.

This third edition of International Arbitration Law and Practice has been largely enriched by covering international commercial arbitrations, investment treaty arbitrations, arbitrations between public bodies, between states and individuals, the UNCITRAL model law and Iran-US Tribunal proceedings as well as commodity arbitration, online arbitration and sports arbitral proceedings.

International Arbitration Law and Practice, 3rd edition elaborates new concepts such as a definition of international arbitration based on procedural law (different from transnational law) and a doctrine (the trunc commun doctrine) to identify the applicable substantive law on disputes between parties belonging to different countries. It further suggests that a law of international arbitration has arisen from the various conventions and laws.

Besides dealing with all the aspects of arbitration on a topic by topic basis, the author presents a third generation arbitration which builds on analysis of major obstacles to a smooth running arbitration. International Arbitration Law and Practice, 3rd edition is a work that anyone involved in arbitral proceedings will find to be absolutely indispensable.

Praise for International Arbitration Law and Practice, 3rd Edition

"Even a glance through the chapter headings is enough to show the welcome breadth of the author's approach. ... One need look no further for the philosophy of the author or for the service which this work will perform for the arbitrating community."

– Michael Mustill (Baron Mustill), Formerly President of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators and Vice President of the Court of Arbitration of the International Chamber of Commerce (ICC)

"Building on his previous first two editions of the subject, this new third edition of International Law and Practice covers with a keen eye the good, the bad and the ugly parts of this dispute resolution process. The author pulls no punches in revealing his own reflections of how and where it needs to be fixed. You may not agree with every point in this one man treatise; but to ignore it would be a fatal mistake to the massive amount of work and commentary that is contained in its 46 eminently readable chapters. Whether you are interested in international commercial agreements, investment or treaty cases or specialty forms of international arbitration in any part of the global marketplace, the new edition is undoubtedly a smart place to begin your research. It is practical and insightful and the reader is rarely left in doubt as to the author's views on controversial topics. It is a must for any arbitrator, law firm, library or corporate law department."

– Gerald Asken, Former Vice-Chairman of the ICC International Court of Arbitration and General Counsel, American Arbitration Association (AAA)

"Mauro Rubino-Sammartano has collated the experience of many years of professional activity both as a lawyer and arbitrator. His academic dedication has enabled him to synthesize and set forth in academic terms the technique for the resolution of disputes. Today, international arbitration, in both its commercial and investment protection facets, has perhaps become overly sophisticated. For this reason we can do no other than warmly embrace books such as this in its new edition."

– Bernardo Cremades, Arbitrator and Senior Partner of B. Cremades y Asociados, Madrid

"The third edition of Rubino Sammartano's treatise on arbitration is the achievement of a life devoted to the subject. Drawn from a huge variety of common law and civil law sources, it is a work of wide breadth, covering all topics related to international arbitration – including (to give just a few examples) the duty to cooperate under the arbitration agreement, the effect of insolvency, state immunity, forum necessitatis, or the Iran/US Claims Tribunal. A must in any international arbitration library."

– Juan Fernández-Armesto, Member of the Panel of Arbitrators of ICSID, Co-founder and Vice-Chairman, Club Español del Arbitraje (Spanish Arbitration Association), former Vice-Chairman, IBA Arbitration Committee

"Its richness can be measured first quantitatively: forty six chapters, 1900 pages, a table of contents which covers thirty-eight pages, a bibliography which takes up nearly fifty. Nothing is left out, not international public law arbitration; not investment arbitration; not the Iran-US Claims Tribunal; not the Court of Arbitration for Sport; not online arbitration; not final offers arbitration, and neither are pre-arbitral referees.... Furthermore the approach is consistently comparative, ignoring no region of the world, and giving proper emphasis to published arbitral awards. Since this is the third edition, one can measure how seriously the update has been undertaken."

– Pierre Mayer, Partner, Dechert LLP, Paris

"This latest edition of Prof. Rubino-Sammartano's Masterwork merits a convenient spot on the desk of all arbitration practitioners, both active and putative. It covers everything you can think of: from drafting a workable clause to ICSID and even sports arbitration. But this is no dry encyclopedic stuff. The illustrious Professor is not shy to express his own experienced views on where the practice is going, and could go, giving one a bit of insight as to his recent shift of focus to mediation. Whether we are in accord or not, there is great food for thought, as well as education here. The book is a good read, as well as a must."
